Chaplain (1st Lt.) Paul J. Schmid

The energetic and determined superintendent of Central Catholic during the year 1942-1943

Chaplain (Lt.) Herman J. Schnurr

The teacher who did so much to develop the dramatic and oratorical talent of the students of Central Catholic during the years 1939-1942

DEDICATION

The 1944 ECHO is dedicated by the Senior Class to their former teachers, Chaplain Paul J. Schmid, Chaplain Herman J. Schnurr, Pvt. Joseph Voegele, and to the graduates of Central Catholic High School now serving our country on the land, in the air, and on the sea. May God grant that as upstanding Catholics and Americans they may nobly serve their God and Country.

Rev.
Leonard J. Cross
Superintendent

WHEN WILL C. C. LEAD?

When every student is working on the principle that big buildings are built with small bricks.
SPIRITUALLY—Every action pleasing to God and His Blessed Mother.
INTELLECTUALLY—Every lesson prepared and mastered by hard thinking.
PHYSICALLY—Every practice and every game played clean and hard.
WE PROVIDE THE OPPORTUNITIES—LET'S GO—LET'S WIN—LET'S LEAD.

FATHER CROSS.

Most Rev.
John F. Noll
Bishop of Fort Wayne

Every one of Central Catholic's graduates will be able to do more towards the re-establishment of the Christian order than a dozen graduates of secular schools, because they have majored in the study of religion and the moral law, and are expected to reduce their knowledge to practice, proving by their faultless conduct that one can live religiously and morally and be made happy in so doing. You are different, dear graduates. Therefore, take pride in being different. Represent your school and its teachers creditably; offer your services to your pastor; approach the Communion rail frequently; join a few others of your parish to form a "cell" of Catholic Action, whose field will be your respective place of work, your associates, and your neighborhood.

JOHN FRANCIS NOLL,
Bishop of Fort Wayne.

they learned from the faculty

September the 8th was a gruesome day in the life of Mike and Molly. Another school year had started. New teachers—new classes—and back to school work. Oh, the back breaking task of carrying textbooks home after school, studying at night, the dreaded recitations and tests, and those long periods of enforced silence. But that dreaded teacher soon became a close friend, because Mike and Molly learned that their teachers had dedicated their lives towards leading them to God.

Service is the keynote of the day. To the ideal of intelligent and self-sacrificing service our whole country has bravely and courageously dedicated itself in quest of that kind of Peace in which a better and nobler world can find the pattern of its destiny. Such a Peace, however, can only stem from the Prince of Peace.

To the service of His Cause your faculty have consecrated their lives. In behalf of that Cause your high school was dreamed into actuality. For the spread of that Cause you boys and girls are being trained in the Catholic idealism which down the years has fashioned the leaders that were the hope of the world. Prayerfully and confidently we look to you, our C. C. students of 1944, to pledge your full measure of service to this Cause.

THE TEACHERS OF C. C.

Into the capable hands of our faculty is placed the responsibility of the development of the student's personality. Each Sister and Priest ably possesses the spiritual and educational background to prepare Catholic youth for his place in the world. It is the Sisters and Priests who understandingly and earnestly mold the characters—the foundation is laid in the home, but the impression received in high school is carried away with the student.

The boy and girl, having received proper spiritual and educational training, will be ready to go forth and intelligently meet the problems and challenges which will confront him in these chaotic times.

The following colleges and universities were attended by the teachers of Central Catholic in preparation for their vocation of teaching and training Catholic Youth. The number after the various schools denotes how many of the faculty members made their studies in those particular institutions.

they made friends

Mike and Molly enjoyed watching the uncertain Freshmen wandering in the halls; the confident Sophomores lounging on the locker doors; the scholarly Juniors hurrying to and from classes; and the busy Seniors dashing off to work after school. Mike and Molly typify their joys and their sorrows, their spirit of fun and study, their triumphs and defeats, and their deep rooted faith.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

After a two-week delay, because of a scare of poliomyelitis, school again started in September of 1940. Two great events marked this memorable September . . . the end of a prolonged vacation and the beginning of our never-to-be-forgotten high school years. The halls of "C. C." resounded with our fresh youthful voices. We were happy in the realization that at last we could be called high school students.

As we look over our high school days, we recall many pleasant and unpleasant thoughts. We think of how "green" we were as Freshmen . . . how we were forever "bowing" to the Seniors . . . how we will always remember our first Latin words "In cisterna aqua est" . . . of the racking of our brain and pulling of our hair trying to figure the unknown quantity "x" in Algebra.

We had a wonderful feeling coming back in September of 1941, for now we were Sophomores . . . we knew our way around and could sympathize with the "poor, little Freshmen." Remember . . . our first experiments in Biology Lab? . . . how we celebrated our victory as State Catholic Champions? . . . the dreadful attack on Pearl Harbor December 7th?

For once we were glad to have vacation over with, because in September of 1942 we entered the doors of "C. C." as "Upperclassmen." The success of our first Junior dance . . . breaking the jinx that North Side had on us by beating them 26-25 . . . the arrival of our class rings . . . are all thoughts that will remain with us for years to come.

In September of 1943 we had reached our goal . . . we were at last the mighty Seniors. Our football season was climaxed with our first annual Football Dance . . . Senior class pictures were taken in December . . . in January, the halls were suddenly quieter . . . several Senior boys had left for college or to enter the armed forces . . . we also made our last Retreat at "C. C." Other pleasant memories are . . . the Junior dance . . . the long-awaited election of "Prom Queen" . . . the Senior Prom.

We recall all these past events and many more, as we leave the portals of "C. C." Our attendance at this school has prepared us for our future duties . . . to be the Catholic leaders of our community.

A PARTING THOUGHT

As graduation time draws near, we think of the future and what it may hold for us. Not to forget the past, we express our gratitude to our teachers for their patience and understanding; and say "Gooy-bye" and "Good Luck" to the undergraduates.

No matter what vocation we follow, whether it be in college, business life, religious life, or in the armed service, we feel confident that we will not betray the religious and intellectual development we have received at "C. C."

So as we leave "C. C." with a song on our lips and a prayer in our hearts, we are eager for the chance to prove to the world that "better Catholics make better citizens."

THE JUNIORS

The Junior Class looks forward to the dawn of the day when they will be "respected seniors" with all the priorities which accompany this distinction. Let's see how much they have accomplished toward that goal.

One of the most popular extra curricular activities is the band and orchestra in which many Juniors have taken part. The talented musicians are: Robert Adang, Anthony McEntee, Kenneth Merz, Colette Mohl, Jack Engle, Lois Littlefield, Joseph Naumcheff, Bernon Kuyoth, Virginia

THE SOPHOMORES

"The class of shining example" has been the Sophomore Class of this year. No longer the "greenies" of the school they began this year with a determination to make it worth while. This fact is proved by their record of placing first in most of the contests which the school sponsored.

In the Shamrock drive who placed first? Why a sophomore room—307—of course. In the Music Department benefit raffle who would you expect to land first place? Naturally a Sophomore room—208. Running second to The Office they placed second in the Stamp Contest with rooms 205 and 208 leading. With 100% co-operation and the greatest amount of bonds sold Room 207 won the Bond Drive. Yes, the Sophomore Class has been exceptional in every contest of the school.

THE FRESHMEN

The walls of Central Catholic fairly bulged last fall when the new class of Freshmen made their first appearance at C. C. They numbered approximately three hundred; and hence, it was quite a problem finding home rooms and teachers for the group. However, the matter was soon adjusted; and after a few weeks of bewilderment at the difference between high school and grade school, the hopeful class of '47 settled down to the routine of school work and showed their real school spirit by splendidly backing every worthwhile C. C. project and activity.

In the matter of supporting the various works of the Mission Society, the Freshman class led the way and set a high standard for the other classes to follow. Records show that this class was the outstanding group in the school, since they invariably received a gold star for their generous contributions to all causes. Responsible in part for this remarkable record were the Freshmen who acted as home room representatives for the Mission Society: Jean Vachon, Robert Voorhees, Kathryn Higgins, Leon Horstman, Gervase Herman, Don Perrey, Louis Jacquay, and Joan Beckman.

FRESHMEN

The call for servers for the daily Mass at C. C. found the Freshman boys both willing and eager, even though for a time there was hardly a cassock small enough to fit some of them. Faithful in keeping their appointments were the following: William Martin, Donald Luther, Philip Zickgraf, Leon Horstman, Richard Zollinger, James Whiteman, Carlos Avila, Ralph Giant, Norman Gunkel, Jerome Hoevel, David Steckbeck, James Simonis, William North, Eugene Ackerman, and Bob Voorhees. Of this group Carlos Avila is deserving of special mention; for not only was he frequently on hand to act as a substitute, but he also rendered an invaluable service as sacristan, setting up the altar on the stage for Mass and helping to keep the place befittingly clean and neat.

The patriotism of the Freshman class found expression in their efforts to make the bond drive the huge success that it was. The bond captains in each home room worked hard to put their rooms over the top; and it was with a gleam of satisfaction in their eyes that they could be seen every day outside their respective rooms tabulating the results that brought them ever closer to the goal of their quotas. The boys and girls who backed the attack as captains were: David Burlage, John Williams, Bob Klingenberger, James Scheffer, Rita Schnurr, Pat Maher, and John Morrell.

The task of rebuilding C. C.'s football and basketball teams for the '44-'45 season appeared a little less ominous, as large numbers of Freshmen turned out for these two sports. Not only was there quantity in abundance, but quality as well. Some of the boys who will undoubtedly be playing a lot of football and basketball for C. C. in the next three years were: George Mudrack, Norman Henry, Bob Didier, Bob Voorhees, Frank Potosky, Bob Johnson, Edward Gillie, Bob Blosser, Tom Logan, and Dick Dierkes.

FRESHMEN

While the boys were doing all right for themselves in athletic competition, the girls were not idle either. Many Freshmen participated in the tumbling event presented for the Mothers Club. Every home room sponsored a team in the G. A. A. Intramural Basketball Tourney; and while the Freshmen did not manage to come up with a winner, they did make a good showing for themselves. A large number of girls also took part in various other activities of the G. A. A. Outstanding among the athletic-minded Freshmen were the Ryan twins, Jean and Joan, Jean Van Ryn, and Patricia McLaughlin.

FOOTBALL

Though giving much promise at the outset of the season, the 1943 edition of Irish football did not measure up to expectations. The team won but one game, a 7-0 win over the Marion Giants, played on a water soaked field. C. C. scored only two other touchdowns all season. One of these gave them a temporary lead over South Side; the other was a fruitless last quarter marker that averted a shut-out at the hands of C. C. of South Bend.

Yet, one cannot judge a season solely by the "won and lost" column, but by the fight and courage the team showed as the going got tougher. C. C.'s grididers fought hard; they took their beatings courageously; they dis-

COACH VOEGELE

Early in February Central Catholic lost its coach, Joseph Voegele, to the army. He is one of the three faculty members now in the service. Coach Voegele in his two and a half years at C. C. piloted the basketball team to a State Catholic Championship. He also saw the inauguration of track as a major sport at C. C. The school says, "Good luck, Joe, and many thanks for all you've done for us."

BASKETBALL SEASON

Central Catholic's varsity this year may have no trophies or championships to show for its efforts; but not since the days of Ed Stanczak has an Irish team compiled a more impressive array of net victories. The final count was 17 wins as against only 3 losses.

At the very outset of the season, C. C. gave evidence of its latent power by blasting out a 70-16 win over hapless Ossian, the highest score ever made by a C. C. team. This was followed by victories over Auburn, Huntington Catholic, and New Haven. Then came the Central game. Handicapped by illnesses and facing a team that was strutting its state championship abilities, C. C. was forced to taste defeat for the first time. The letdown, however, was short-lived, as the Irish bounced right back into winning ways with successive victories over Yorktown, Hoagland, Berne, and (to climax it all) a win over North Side. By this time, C. C.'s team had become a smooth, driving, masterful quintet. Dunkirk was next to fall, and then another city rival, Concordia. That set the stage for the South Side Game; but the Green Archers, frequently rated among the ten best teams in the state, had too much for the Purple and Gold. Undaunted by this defeat, however, C. C. inaugurated another string of victories to finish out the regular season. Father Wirtz was in charge of the team now; and he piloted the boys to wins over Elmhurst, Butler, Leo, New Haven, Decatur Catholic, and Bluffton.

Ed Tourney

The sectional tournament found C. C. pitted against Harlan in the tough upper bracket along with South and North Side. The Irish managed to get by the Hawks; but the slow, tantalizing offense of South Side spelled the downfall of the Irish. Disappointing though the ending may have been, the varsity of 1943-44 certainly added another brilliant chapter to the basketball annals of Central Catholic.

Everyone knows the cheerleaders, Mary Ann Schlink (captain), Mary Alice Wyatt, and Marie Ann Lauer, who so enthusiastically lead the songs and cheers at the games and pep sessions. They are responsible for putting the students and the team into the winning spirit.

Student Managers

Any C. C. athlete can tell you that these boys are Jack McClellan, Dean Franke, Paul Sult, Tom Shovlin, Ronald Cox, Leo Jehl, and Joe Winebrenner. That's right, they are the student managers. These boys distribute the equipment, keep it in good condition, and give some medical attention. Let's give the student managers a big cheer!

RESERVE BASKETBALL TEAM

Although not many people pay much attention to the reserve basketball team, in the eyes of the coach it is an important factor in planning for the future. From this team comes the players who are to make up the varsity basketball teams for Central Catholic in future years. Much time and labor are given to show the younger boys the principles of team work so important in a winning team. The reserve squad is made up of mostly sophomores and juniors.

This year many promising players turned out for the team. Among them were Jehl, Plumb, Fabian, Hebb, Tourney, Canfield, O'Connor, Sult, Haughan, and Heidenreich. These boys played fine basketball all season long and displayed splendid team work. With this fine material C. C. should have good teams in the future.

This year sixteen boys were awarded the athletic monogram for participating in sports. Not many students realize how much free time and effort these boys have given for the glory of Central Catholic.

Sports have taught these boys the necessity of a strong body and sportsmanship, which is also necessary in future life.

Of the sixteen awarded monogram sweaters, only six will return next year to continue in the field of sports. Many of them, seniors, have played their last game for C. C.

The teams were fortunate to have such fine leaders as Joe Maher and Jim Bogenshutz, co-captains of football, and Jim Kartholl, captain of basketball.

As the school year is closing, we want to thank these boys for the fine entertainment and thrills they have given us.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS

With the cooperation of the Athletic Department, Father Gollner again conducted the boys intramural basketball program this year. Beginning shortly after the Christmas holidays, two leagues were organized—one for the Juniors and Seniors, the other for the Freshmen and Sophomores. Every home room that could muster five eligible players was represented in one of these leagues. Games were played during the noon hour, and a goodly crowd of partisan fans was always on hand to cheer their favorites. Competition in the two leagues was so keen that, when the season ended, five teams were tied for first place in one league and three in the other.

These intramural games not only enabled those boys not of varsity calibre to enjoy some recreation; but they also gave the students of C. C. something interesting to watch during the long noon hours. It is to be hoped that the students of C. C., realizing the many advantages of intramural basketball, will cooperate fully with those in charge so that these fine institutions can be continued in the future.

GIRLS' INTRAMURALS

Almost every noon enthusiastic students entered the gym to witness the girls' intramural basketball games.

The girls follow the regular standard girls' rules for the basketball games which is a change after observing collegiate basketball rules all year.

Each home room in the school was represented by a team composed of eight girls who volunteered to sacrifice a part of their lunch period one day a week to bring honor to their respective home rooms. These games not only aided the girls physically, but they seemed to arouse and interest the boys also.

Room 304 was the leading team of the senior and junior girls. Room 206 proved to be the most outstanding team among the sophomore and freshman girls. Some outstanding players on these teams are Edith O'Rourke, Pat Yaste, Betty Ellen Murphy, and Ruth Schlink.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC

While the boys have showered glory on the school by their excellent work in basketball, the girls have not been idle. These active lasses participated in many events during the past year.

The top event of the year was the tumbling exhibition presented, for the enjoyment of the Mother's Club. The exhibition, which was presented by the freshman and sophomore girls, consisted of tumbling events, relay races, basketball and volleyball games.

ASSOCIATION

The annual volleyball tournament was won by the Sophomore girls. They defeated the Senior team in a thrilling game.

As for the social trend of the organization, a skating party was held April 14 at Bell's Rink for the girls and other students. A huge crowd attended and fun was had by all.

The association is operated on a point basis for which certain insignia are given, and it is through a very active participation in sports that the insignia are gained. Those girls who have earned the coveted big "C" for the year are: Jean Keller, Mary Saxon, Ruth Nicther, Ruth Johnson, and Mary Jane McNulty.

Would you like to see Mike and Molly really work and enjoy doing it? Then the students should recall the numerous activities which were sponsored at C. C. during the past school year. It was Mike and Molly working through their different clubs. The daily Mass guards, the weekly Mission collections, the semi-monthly Civic Club meetings, the frequent musical programs, the regular issues of the Shamrock, and the fine presentations of the Dramatic Club showed Mike and Molly at their best.

Steadily gaining more prestige, the Students Spiritual Council is one of the outstanding organizations at Central Catholic. Under the guidance of its moderators, Fr. Gollner and Sr. Margaret Agnes, the club accomplished much this year.

Membership in the Spiritual Council is limited to a representative from each home room; and the work of the club is performed by various special committees. These committees look after the bulletin board near the chapel, put up inspiring religious posters throughout the school, assign Mass servers, and maintain a spirit of quiet in the halls during Mass.

Other activities of the club consisted of spiritual bouquets sent to Pope Pius XII, Bishop Noll, and Fr. Cross. At Christmas time the Council sponsored a drive for funds to purchase gifts for the orphans. The drive was a huge success, thus showing the generous spirit that prevails among C. C. students.

The Students Spiritual Council has indeed by its constant efforts helped to keep the student spiritual morale soaring high. May it be even more successful in future years!

In 1942 there was formed a group at Central Catholic, which proved to be quite different from most of the other clubs. Consisting entirely of girl members, these lasses deserve a lot of credit since they receive little publicity for the excellent work they have done.

The Veronica Guild makes finger towels, amices, and altar cloths. The chapels at the Chancery, here at Central Catholic, and at the Allen County Institutions were all provided with linens through the efforts of the Veronica Guild. Mending, washing, and ironing the linens were works which the girls truly enjoyed. Their efforts, though not greatly publicized, have certainly been appreciated and should be a source of pride and satisfaction to those who have engaged in this very worthwhile project.

Seated around a spacious table in the school library, the Legion of Mary has met every Monday evening to plan and execute its now well-known traditions: the Living Rosary, the May devotions, the visitation of the sick at St. Joseph's Hospital, serving the school Mass, and filling the classroom holy water fonts.

This active work would be fruitless if it were not fortified by the prayers of the auxiliary members, made up of lay men and women, and the adjutorian members, made up of Religious. The efforts of this combined group at Central Catholic are placed in the hands of Our Blessed Lady of Victory, the official title of our praesidium.

The Legion of Mary wishes to express its sincere gratitude to the administration of the school under the leadership of Bishop Noll for their constant solicitude and encouragement.

Among the many newer organizations at Central Catholic is a group of Juniors who call themselves the Shael Club. The secret of the club's purpose and activities is revealed in the title, Shael, which is a word coined from the initials of "Sacred Heart and Enthronement League." The club's latest project has been an attempt to contact well-known business men and women of Fort Wayne in an effort to have the Sacred Heart program broadcast over the local radio stations.

The promotion of devotion to the Sacred Heart is certainly a project that will bring many blessings to the school as well as to those who have labored so tirelessly to foster it. Our thanks then to the Shael Club for their noble efforts in this regard!

Affiliated with the National Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, the St. Francis Xavier Mission Unit of Central Catholic is one of the most active clubs in the school. The purpose of the club is three-fold—prayer, study, and sacrifice.

All over the world go contributions from the St. Francis Xavier Mission Unit of C. C., and to our own Allen County Institutions.

A new plan was initiated this year by the unit. The meetings of the unit were held in all student assemblies with everyone in attendance, instead of the previous meetings with only home room representatives.

County Institutions Volunteers

Marking its first anniversary with the coming of Lent this year, the singers, and servers who have contributed so much of their time and effort to this worthy cause deserve a round of applause from the student body.

The organization acknowledges its ever grateful thanks to: Eugene Vachon for the fine work on the altar at the Irene Byron Sanatorium; the parishes of the city for their generous donations of vestments; the Veronica Guild for its ample supply of beautiful linens; and The Mission Unit for its ever-generous donations to the cause.

The regular singers of the organization include Mary Anderson, Pat Gremaux, and Collette Mohl. The servers are Ed Rooney, Jay Bueter, and John Zwierko. Dick Goetz is the accompanist.

Hand in hand with graduation is the publication of the annual. This is one of the school publications most eagerly awaited by the student body. The "Echo" is the historical review in pictures of the past school year.

Our yearbook cannot be published in just a week or a month; for it comprises all the happenings and doings of the entire student body throughout the school year, requiring much time and work on the part of the staff. Mention and credit should also be given to those whose professional services have helped to make our annual what it is. The photography was handled by Mr. Brennerkamp of the Cron Studios. The engraving was done by the Fort Wayne Engraving Company, with Mr. Virgil Montague and Mr. Gene Craig as its representatives. The printing was the work of the Keefer Printing Company.

It is our hope that in the years to come after graduation, the "Echo" will bring back fond memories of this school year.

The hopes and ambitions of the Journalism class were realized this year in a bigger and better Shamrock.

Under the able leadership of Sister Catherine Joseph, the paper gained these heights, as well as retain its membership in the National Catholic Press Association.

The ever popular "gossip column," Loose Ends, still remains tops among C. C. students. A new feature was added in the letters of Uncle Burnt Toast to his nephew Peg Leg. In these cleverly written letters our superintendent, Father Cross, peped up the student morale each month.

Co-editors Don Grable and Betty Gross helped do their share in getting out the paper each month by going all out for the Shamrock.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council helps the faculty solve the various problems confronting the school. The group is composed of the officers of each class and a representative selected from each junior and senior home room. Jerry Henry, Senior class president, is chairman and presides at the meetings. He is assisted by the other Senior class officers, Phil Dwire, Maxine Flory, and Patricia Perry.

One of the biggest activities of the Student Council this year was the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. The student body co-operated whole-heartedly in this activity, and over $17,000 in bonds and stamps were sold.

Showing their initiative and ingenuity, the Junior members of the Council planned and promoted the second annual Junior Dance which was held February 18, at St. Paul's auditorium.

Among the topics discussed this year was the problem of traffic in the halls. Many suggestions were given by the Student Council, some of which after careful consideration by the faculty, were put into effect.

BOND CAPTAINS

BOND CAPTAINS

When the 4th War Loan Drive was announced, Central Catholic immediately took steps and announced the quota for the students. Each Freshman and Sophomore was expected to buy at least $2.00 worth of war stamps. $3.00 was the quota set for the upper-classmen.

Each home room had its representative in the 4th War Loan Drive. With the encouragement of the home room captains, most of the students bought their quota. Many students bought $25 War Bonds. Several purchased $50 Bonds. Leading Central Catholic on to success in its campaign, were the purchasers of the $100 Bonds and the $1000 Bonds.

Thus C. C. completed her drive way up on top.

The Latin Club brings to a close its fourth successful year, under the leadership of its new moderator, Father James O'Connor.

The primary purpose of the Latin Club is to promote a better understanding and love for the classical language. Monthly meetings were held in which some phase of the Latin language was discussed.

However, it wasn't a case of all work and no play with the Latin Club; for during the basketball season they entertained the student body with a delightful pep session before the Central Catholic-North Side game. In this pep session, characters of Roman mythology such as, Pan, Mercury, Venus, and Cupid played a prominent part.

With the intention of aiding Central Catholic students to become clear-thinking, well informed citizens of tomorrow the Civics Club was established three years ago and has continued to be one of the really active clubs of the school ever since. Its membership this year is the largest in its history.

Under the competent guidance of Father Gollner many timely topics were discussed this year, such as "Compulsory Savings"; "Working After School"; "Chivalry"; and "Should Youths of Eighteen Vote?" Meetings were held in the evenings instead of after school to make it convenient for more to attend.

The Civics Club members showed their interest in social activities as well as in problems of a civic nature; for on December 19, an ice-skating party was held at the Willig cottage on Sylvan Lake near Rome City. A grand time was had by all.

This club promotes training in Catholic writing. By participation in the Writers' Club one can gain invaluable experience in writing. It fosters interest in Catholic writers and journalists. The ideals of this club are to learn a famous author, worth knowing, and a publication worth reading.

This club, although still in its infancy here at Central Catholic, has grown considerably during the past year. Under the direction of Sr. Catherine Joseph, its moderator, the club has engaged in many successful activities.

During the year, the Writers' Club assisted the Shamrock staff in preparing the Catholic Press exhibit.

The Writers' Club elects officers each semester.

LIBRARY

One of the most popular rooms at Central Catholic is the Library. Here under the competent guidance and earnest efforts of Sister Alphonsus, the librarian, numerous books have been added to make a well balanced selection of reading for C. C. students.

Ever ready to help in the selection of our books and to answer such questions as, "Who wrote . . . ?", and "Where can I find . . . ?", or "Where are the biographies?", is the library staff.

The last period of each school day is the hustle-bustle period in the library. There you will find students busily scanning the shelves for that necessary book to finish an assignment before the bell rings.

Then, as the hands of the clock point to 3:45 p.m., one of the busiest rooms in the school makes ready to close its door.

THE SENIOR PROM

After high school days are over, there is always one thing remembered and cherished in the life of every graduate—the Senior Prom. Around the Prom Queen centers the whole prom. To be Prom Queen is an honor every senior girl dreams of and hopes for. In the election each senior girls' room nominates three candidates. From among the nominees the entire senior class elects the Prom Queen. The girl with the highest number of votes is queen, and the next five, form her court.

After the election of the queen and her court comes the anxious weeks of waiting and hoping for a prom bid on the part of the girls. On the other side we see the boys shaking in their shoes for fear of the powers of the "femeine fatale." It is the custom that the queen, after being crowned by the class president, take her own crown and lay it at the feet of the Blessed Virgin. This is done to show that the greatest of all queens, is the Blessed Virgin Mary.

RED CROSS

Moderator.....	Sister Marie Hildegarde

Every year Central Catholic becomes an official member of the American Junior Red Cross organization. The smallest contribution admits one as a member. The American Junior Red Cross has the same activities as the American Red Cross, only on a smaller basis.

Our soldiers were not forgotten. The Red Cross remembered them. Neatly-made patriotic favors were provided for our service men through special parties held in their honor. The Red Cross made every effort to make Christmas as merry as possible for people of the war torn countries. Each home room was given a number of boxes to fill. Along with the usual gifts of toys, such articles as soap and wash cloths were sent to them. A letter was received at Central Catholic, which acknowledged the receipt of all of these gifts.

Cafeteria Staff

At 11:30 every morning there is a hustle for the school cafeteria. Waitresses are always ready to serve the students. If they arrive at 11:32, it's too bad. At that time it's hard to find a seat or booth that is not piled high with books, and overcrowded with students.

About 12:00 most of the once-hungry students have already eaten their dinner prepared by Mrs. Seibert, known to the students as "Mom." But the students don't leave at 12:00. At this time the cafeteria becomes a social study period.

The Orchestra

Sister Huberta

It's no wonder our Music Department displays so much pep with energetic, enthusiastic Sister Mary Huberta as its supervisor. Not satisfied with the work of training the Band and the Orchestra only, she undertook the Glee Club and the Baton Twirlers. An estimate of her work can readily be seen in the quality of the finished product. Affectionately, we offer her our sincere congratulations.

ORCHESTRA

That "music hath charms" is one of our favorite expressions, and the music of C. C.'s orchestra is a definite proof of this statement. The orchestra is now five years old. From the time of its organization in October 1939, it has continued to improve until now we have one of the finest aggregations in the city.

Many have devoted four years of untiring effort to the orchestra. Of the seven senior members five are performing a double duty by playing in our school band. As we all know, it takes real "stick to-it-ive-ness" and a genuine spirit of co-operation to be a faithful member of any organization for four years. Hats off to our seniors!

Featured appearances of the orchestra were accompanying the Glee Club in the annual Christmas program, presenting the Spring Festival, and playing for various school activities.

The goal of every member of the orchestra is the monogrammed sweater awarded to seniors under the new point system. Freshmen receive a monogram if they have not lost more than 10% of all possible points. A second award is a silver medal; a third, a gold medal.

The Band

That "practice makes perfect" has governed to a great extent the success of the band. Any member can tell you that it would be much easier not to practice. If they had been selfish, we well might know what would result. It takes cooperation to make a band—they must play together, they must know how to follow their director. So we here salute the most unselfish, the most cooperative group at Central Catholic—our band.

"Ever faithful" might well be the band's motto and "loyalty" its watchword. At pep sessions, ball games, and assemblies its stirring music never failed to put us in the proper mood. Many take the band too much for granted. They just don't seem to realize how much sacrifice each member contributes to the making up of a good band.

For the first time, the band and its alumni sponsored a Football Dance, which proved to be a huge success. They provided ballots and the school elected a "football king" who reigned at the dance. The band raffle again proved a great success this year. The money netted was used for the general betterment of the band, orchestra, and glee club.

Father Miller

When Father Miller lifts his baton, everyone knows what will happen. In a moment good music will fill the gym. This is a certainty that symbolizes our trust in Father Miller's ability. We have learned to understand his capability as director of the Band and Orchestra. We'd like to say, "Thank you, Father. You've done a wonderful job. They're great and we're proud of them—and you."

Farewell, Senior Bandsman

The directors and band members in a way dread graduation day. It will mean the loss of many veteran band members who will be hard to replace. This year the Band loses: Rita Fox, Fritzie Herber, Bob Hartman, Deveda Hebb, Cecilia Murphy, Betty Neuer, Joellen Shanley, and Jim Vachon. They brought honor to the uniform they wore.

GLEE CLUB

Four years ago the Music Department launched a new musical venture, the Glee Club. For weeks Sister Mary Huberta conducted an extensive search for talent, testing every student's voice, selecting the best, and training toward perfection. Our Glee Club then made its debut in May, 1941, at a concert. Since that time we have enjoyed its welcome presence at pep sessions, assemblies, Christmas programs, and the like. This year C. C. will graduate the last of the Glee Club's charter members. With it from its inception, these Seniors have sacrificed to establish firmly the Glee Club at C. C. Many dropped out somewhere along the way into the easier path; but some, true to the tradition of C. C., displayed the same steadfastness which they hope to see in their successors.

THE TWIRLERS

Another first with the class of "44" is the baton twirling corps. From the time of its establishment in "41", it has improved rapidly.

Dressed in white satin uniforms, the girls appeared frequently at basketball games. Everyone enjoyed their performances immensely. At Christmas they took part in the annual Christmas program.

Between the halves of basketball games this year Paul Ueber provided entertainment. "An old hand at that sort of thing," Paul literally brought the house down on numerous occasions with his rafter-throwing antics. Paul is a senior and has been twirling for four years.

The twirling field offers unlimited opportunities to newcomers. In all probability the dawning of future years shall find an excellent and enlarged group of twirlers at C. C. It is our fervent hope that the corps, in which some of us are charter members, may survive through the years and become another traditional C. C. source of pride.

Under the leadership of its new moderator, Fr. O'Connor, members of the Dramatics Club participated in group discussions and debates presented at the regular meetings.

A hilarious comedy, "Young Smitty" was presented on October 31 and November 2. Following this the human interest comedy, "Almost Eighteen," was presented on March 16. We, the student body express our grateful thanks to the untiring efforts of the Dramatics Club moderator, Fr. O'Connor, and the casts of both plays for the fine entertainment they have presented us.

Life Insurance Isn't Rationed

You can still avail yourself of the advantages that life insurance provides. It creates an immediate estate and builds a savings fund, which will safeguard your financial future. Deposits are smallest at your present age. For further details, let a Lincoln Life man explain.
